Newgate Street & Cockton Hill Road are part of the ancient Roman "Dere Street" connecting "Eboracum" (York) to "Veluniate" (Bo'ness) and passing through the Roman Fort of "Vinovia" or Binchester whose site and excavations can still be seen today just to the North of the Town Centre via the Market Place.

Along the road from Cockton Hill traffic lights to the Market Place, looking above the shop fronts as you walk, you'll see fantastic examples of architecture of differing styles and ages.

Born Arthur Stanley Jefferson in 1890, Stan Laurel lived in the family home in Prince's Street and was Christened at the former St Peter's Church.

The Four Clocks Centre was officially opened on 18th February 1914 as a Wesleyan Church.

Its four clocks are said to remind us that the good news of God's caring must go out 24 hours every day to the North, East, South & West. It is now home to the Town Council & Town Team.

"Theatre Corner" was once the site of the Eden Theatre which Stan Laurel's parents once managed and in which they regularly performed. The Stan Laurel memorial statue can be seen here.
